Newsletter for the First Quarter of 2024

Have you ever felt small and insignificant? I think many of us have, at times. Have you ever thought of yourself as so insignificant that God couldn't possibly use you for God's good purposes? Certainly, if God needs something done, God will use someone with many more resources. More talent. Someone younger. Someone older. Someone richer. Someone stronger. I have felt like this as well.

You know, Red Bank United Methodist Church is a relatively small church in a relatively small town. Most people in the rest of the world, America and Tennessee for that matter don't even know we exist. But look what God is doing through YOU! We have one of the largest, if not THE LARGEST Food Pantry in the entire county. People rely on this church.

We have a preschool that has 110 children enrolled. It's only about 3 years old, but it has 110 kids and it has been nominated to win the award for Best of the Best by the in the Times Free Press for two years running. On top of being one of the highest-quality preschools, it is one of the most affordable.

We have a Young at Heart Group, for folks 55 and over, which has grown tremendously over the past year. It is a great way to plug into a community and make friends while having fun. They meet twice a month all year long (look for their 2024 calendar in this newsletter).

Our Wednesday evening children's program is growing as well as our Sunday morning program. We have a fantastic Children's Director and God is using her.

These are some of the ministries of this church. And these ministries are making a huge difference in this community. And you make up this Church—you are being used by God for God's good purposes. This is huge. There is no greater privilege nor calling.

Perhaps there are people who, at one point or another, have written us off and said, "Red Bank United Methodist Church is a relic of the past. Their best days are behind them." I'm here to say that our best days are NOW and there are much, much better days to come. And that is not because of us. It is because we are Christ's Church. We are God's Church. His Son lives in our hearts. We are His servants. He has called us to bear much fruit. And you are saying "yes" to His call.

And God has chosen to use this Church to play a big part in transforming lives here in Red Bank. I believe with that we are standing on the precipice of a great revival in this town. So many people have given up on the church because they think it is too involved in politics or doesn't put its money where its mouth is. But that does not describe YOU!

The Lord is with you, Red Bank United Methodist Church, and He will use you to birth His Son into the lives of the lost and lonely people of this town.

You Are What You Eat

As we go through this holiday season, we are surrounded by large feasts for Thanksgiving and the annual treats around Christmas and New Year's. I am sure you have heard the phrase, "You are what you eat." The proverbial saying is the notion that to be fit and healthy, you need to eat good food.

'You are what you eat' has come to into the English language by quite a meandering route. In 1826, the French lawyer Anthelme Brillat-Savarin wrote, in Physiologie du Gout, ou Meditations de Gastronomie Transcendante: "Dis-moi ce que tu manges, je te dirai ce que tu es."

[Tell me what you eat and I will tell you what you are]. In an essay titled Concerning Spiritualism and Materialism, 1863/4, Ludwig Andreas Feuerbach wrote: "Der Mensch ist, was er ißt." [Man is what he eats]

Neither Brillat-Savarin nor Feuerbach meant their quotations to be taken literally (that would be rather messy). They stated that the food one eats affects one's state of mind and health. Although they coined French and German variants of 'you are what you eat,' the phrase didn't migrate into other languages and wasn't used in English until decades later.

So, what does this have to do with your faith? Let's change the phrase to "You are what you consume" or "You are what you surround yourself with." How is your faith and your walk with God affected if you surround yourself with sinful temptations? Will you tend to slip more and go away from what you know is the right thing to do? If you surround yourself with people who treat others badly, will your behavior change? On the flip side, if you start your day reading your Bible or devotionals, how will your faith be affected, and will it show through in your actions?

I have met many people who say they are very religious but do not feel they need to go to church to have a strong faith. I am not saying they are wrong, but I think if they surround themselves with other Christians through church and Bible studies, they can grow their faith even more. They are limiting their growth based on what they can do on their own. Having that support team around you raises your potential.

So faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ. Romans 10:17

If you isolate yourself from the word of Christ because of surrounding yourself with all the other distractions of the world, your faith will not grow. We need to feed our faith just as we need to give seeds what they need to grow to be able to have a good harvest. John 4:14 says "Do we nurture, feed, water, and take care of what and where the seed was planted, or do we deprive the soil of what it needs?" We are what we eat; we are what we surround ourselves with. Do we give our faith what it needs to grow or deprive it?

Enjoy the holiday season and the treats that come with it. Don't lose focus on Christ and the celebration of His birth. Surround yourself with everything that will bring you closer to God instead of the world's distractions pulling you away from Him.

Merry Christmas, and may God bless you every day!

Peace be with you,

Thomas Mayberry

WEDNESDAY
BIBLE STUDY
6 PM IN THE FELLOWSHIP HALL

What we have been learning

In youth group we have been learning about how we find our identity in Christ and the urgency of sharing the gospel. We have been looking at verses such as John 1:12, Colossians 2:9-10, Genesis 1:27, Jeremiah 1:5, 1st Corinthians 12:27, Romans 13:11, Matthew 24:42-44, and Acts 20:24. We have been very scripture heavy in our lessons. Throughout this semester we have been very consistent in attendance (though it may be small), We have been very good at bringing our bible every Sunday night, we are growing in our faith and knowledge, and we are learning about the foundations of methodism in Sunday school through confirmation. There is a lot to be excited about in the progress we have been making.

What we're looking forward to

We are very excited for youth group in 2024. We are going to be doing more outreach, more special events, and be more involved in our church. Starting in January I will be going to Red Bank High School's morning FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes) meetings. This will be a good way to advertise youth group, and other special events we will be having. Resurrection is happening from January 19-21st and we will be merging with Sevierville First United Methodist for this event. It will be a time of faith and relationship strengthening. There is a lot to look forward to with youth group in 2024, and I am excited to see how we grow in faith, deeds, and numbers!
